fairs - The visitor.

" Will you take a pinch?" said an acquaintance, offering his snuff-box to a fishmonger. 'No, I thank you,' re plied the latter; 'I have just had one trom a lobster.

A compassionate lady, seeing a vegetable huckster beating his horse eruelly, cried out: " Have you no mercy? To which the astonished man replied. 'No mem ; I've nothing left now but some greens and encumbers."

A gentleman, coming home at evening, spoke hastily to his little three year old, who was playing very noisily. The little lady dropped her playthings, and retreated indignantly to a corner.

"What is the matter?" asked papa. "Well," said the child, " I've been a good girl all this day, and now you come home and make trouble the first thing !"

A literal minded youngster was picked up by a visitor of the family, who, dandling him on his knee, said "I wish I had this little boy, I think there is morey in him." To which promptly responded the child, "I know there is, for I swallowed a cent when I was at Grandma's the other

" Can you tell me where the wicked boys go who fish on Sunday?" asked a sober-looking centleman of a little chap who had worms and a rod. "Yes; some of 'em goes to the lake. I'll show you the best place at the lake."

"Who's there?" said Jenkins one cold Winter's night, disturbed in his repose by some one knocking at the street door. " A friend," was the answer. "What do you want?" " Want to stay here all night." "Queer taste, ain't it? But stay there, by all means," was the benevolent reply.

The difference between a tale-bearer and sealing was is, that se ding-war burns to keep a secret, and the talebearer burns to tell one.

" Sam, what kind ob fish in salt water weigh de least ?" "Why, Julius, what ignoramis questions you ax your brethrea! Minims weigh de least, ob course. "No. sar -- dat's wrong, now; it am de porpus weighs nothing-cos be s got no scales."

If you want to find out a man's real disposition, take him when he is wet and hungry. If he is amiable, then, dry him and fill him up and you have an angel.

Charles Mathews, the comedian, brought up his son as an architect. When asked what profession the young breaks, Shawis Piano Covers, Coats, man was intended for, he replied that he was to frue houses, as his father had there, &c.
